HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

The main body of the book is divided into three sections — The Act (on blue-flagged pages), the Regulations (on red-flagged pages) and the Schedules (on green-flagged pages). The numerical arrangement of the Act and Regulations appears at the front of the section.

There are two ways to find what you are looking for. You can look up the Act section number or the regulation number. These are prominently displayed at the top of the page and in the body of the page. Alternatively, if you do not know the section or regulation number, look in the A-Z index starting on page vi, toward the front of the book. A host of useful and unique features are used throughout this book, maximising its value.

- This guidance arrow indicates additional information relative to the text above it such as information from an incorporated standard. Sometimes it points you to other relevant parts of the legislation
- This detour sign points out a piece of (greyed-out) legislation not yet fully implemented.
- This detour sign points out legislation under the Road Traffic Act, 1989 which still applies.
- This pothole warning sign draws attention to errors and omissions as well as unsound, flawed, poorly drafted or badly executed legislation and highlights loopholes and the growing incompetence of our traffic lawmakers.
- Where an S A National Standard has been incorporated into the regulations, you will see this "pages" icon which tells you the year the latest edition was published.
